Question:

What is your advice to the youth concerning the simplest way to memorize the Book of Allaah?

Answer:

The Qur'aan is simple and easy to memorize. Allaah says: “And We have indeed made the Qur'aan easy to understand and remember, so is there anyone who will remember it?” [Surah Al-Qamar: 17]

The problem lies in a person's determination and the truthfulness of his intention. So if a person has true determination and a strong interest in the Qur'aan, Allaah will facilitate and make easy his memorization of it.

There are also some other things one could do to help in memorizing the Qur'aan such as allotting a specific suitable time every day for attending classes with one who teaches the Qur'aan in the masjid. All praise be to Allaah, the teachers today are many. You will not find a neighborhood except that amongst them there lives one who teaches the Qur'aan. This is a great opportunity that didn't exist in previous times. So a person should choose anyone of the many gatherings or anyone of the many teachers present today and constantly attend these gatherings/sittings with a teacher daily until he completes the Qur'aan.

You should also constantly repeat over and over again what you recite, until it becomes firmly established in your heart and mind. You must also act upon (what you learn from) the Book of Allaah, for that is the greatest means of learning the Qur'aan. Allaah says: “So be dutiful to Allaah and Allaah will teach you. And Allaah is the All-Knower of everything.” [Surah Al-Baqarah: 282]
